OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

IT IS PRETTY ANCIENT history now but we have neglected to report to you before what the final vote count was in Campbell for the presidential and U.S. Senate contests in the Nov. election.

The fact is that Cranston carried all the 15 incorporated cities in the county, although barely squeaking by in Saratoga (5095 to 5077).

And that's quite a record when you figure that a number of cities had a higher registration of Republicans than Democrats.

In Campbell, Cranston polled 4,686 votes to 2,820 for Max Rafferty.

AS IT WAS THROUGHout the state and nation, the vote in the cities in the presidential was split pretty much down the middle, although Hubert Humphrey carried the county by 11,000 votes (173,511 to 163,446).

Richard Nixon carried seven cities and Hubert Humphrey carried eight.

Campbell gave Humphrey the edge by 273 votes (3726 to 3453) and San Jose gave Hubert 11,000 more than Nixon.

There were some real close ones in this contest in the county. Mountain View gave Humphrey a 150-vote edge while Nixon carried Sunnyvale only 222 votes out of 30,000 votes.

As was pretty much expected, Nixon carried Los Altos, Los Altos Hills, Los Gatos, Monte Sereno and Saratoga. He lost in Palo Alto but gained in Sunnyvale.

You might be interested to know also that George Wallace picked up 524 votes in Campbell and there were 11 votes cast for the Peace and Freedom electors.

Wallace had a total of 18,754 in the county with 7185 casting ballots for him in San Jose.

Sunnyvale gave Wallace 1766 and Santa Clara 1695. Surprisingly enough, Milpitas, regarded usually as the seat of liberalism in the county, gave Wallace 647 votes right after Mountain View with 971 and Palo Alto with 744.

TO DESCRIBE THE CURrent civic issue involving the limited open space within the city limits simply as a "parks vs. apartment" concept of community life would be completely unfair.

It would also be incorrect to over-emphasize the intramural conflict that the problem has developed between the two city advisory commissions, the Planning Commission on one side and the Parks and Recreation Commission on the other.

The problem is much more complex than merely differences in opinion or concept on the part of individuals.

At stake is the future welfare of citizens of the community, many of whom may not yet even be born.

The need to reserve and preserve for the future the fast-disappearing open space in urban areas has been recognized by experts as an extremely important part of planning for the future.

On the other hand, it has become obvious for sometime now that multiple-housing complexes will also be needed to accommodate the citizens of tomorrow.

BUT WE SEE NOTHING wrong in the two city council advisory commissions riding off in different directions together.

The planning body approved the site plan for a 288-unit apartment complex.

The park group felt that the apartments infringed on the open space that is badly needed for expanding the city's central park.

The Parks and Recreation Commission, naturally, must be concerned over ways and means to provide the city with adequate parks and recreation while the Planning

Sunsweet building to get 'new life'

New owner of three-story plant reveals transformation plans

Downtown Campbell's only "skyscraper", the three-story warehouse-dryer building of Sunsweet Growers, Inc., will be converted into a sort of combination Ghiradelli Square – Old Town, Los Gatos, according to Stanley Becker, the new owner of the property located on Central Ave. just off Campbell Ave.

Becker has tabbed the ambitious undertaking "The Wrinkled Prune Annex" (see picture) in tribute to the lowly prune which for so many years was the star of the operation in the center of town.

He said he has purchased two buildings from Sunsweet that extend from Campbell Ave. to Railway Ave.

The structures contain approximately 85,000 square feet in total floor space on about 1½-acres.

In the three-story building, Becker estimates about 17,000 square feet per floor will be available for lease.

According to his tentative plans, he envisions a cabaret for the third floor, patterned after the "Hungry i" of San Francisco fame.

He is hoping for, at least, three top-quality restaurants to be located in the building.

On the second floor, he plans to have space for at least 30 working artists who will also be able to exhibit their work in a gallery which will be on the same floor.

Becker emphasizes that very little change is contemplated in the exterior of the buildings, at least for the present.

He maintains the corrugated steel outside and warehouse appearance is expected to enhance the development, adding to its quaintness.

He explained that the element of surprise will be one of the main features of the development...The interior of the building will be so outstanding and "glamorous"; he believes, that the contrast of the inside to the outside will be one of its biggest attractions.

Becker said that he hopes to take the preliminary steps in the transformation procedure very soon and has already contacted city staff personnel as to what has to be done to get the project moving.

He expects to ask for a zone change first (from industrial to commercial) and then ask for approval of the various city departments that will be involved in the conversion.

He said that he has received encouragement from many quarters, especially from those who are concerned with the future of the so-called downtown core area.

Some have indicated that the conversion of the old Sunsweet operation, as envisioned in Becker's plans, could lead to other changes in downtown designs.

Becker, a resident of Saratoga, is not a stranger to the community. He is the owner of Becker Foods Co. which has been a distributor for fruits and vegetables in the San Jose-Campbell area for the past 14 years.

The firm now occupies space in one of the buildings acquired from Sunsweet. Previously the firm was located in Campbell's industrial park.

Service station appeal goes to Council Monday

Another appeal from a Planning Commission ruling will be on the agenda of the City Council next Monday night, Feb. 10.

CalTex Investment Builders of San Jose is appealing the action of the planners denying the firm a service station on the northwest corner of E. Hamilton and Alamarida Dr. (across from Breuners).

On the agenda also is the zone change request by the same firm for the whole parcel at Alamarida and Hamilton to become R-3-S and C-2-S instead of the C-1, R-1, R-2 at present. The service station would front on the C-1 portion of Hamilton.

The Planning Commission approved the zone change but denied the gas station, mainly because of the traffic problems now existing on Hamilton.

The Planning Commission approved the zone change but

The Council next Monday also is expected to discuss possible legislation that would regulate the storage of trailers and boats at residences.

City Manager Bob Stephens may ask that the City Council start condemnation proceedings on the one remaining (out of 11) parcels that is needed for the civic center between from Grant south and between First and Central.

All the other parcels that are needed, Stephens said, are in escrow.

Next monday night—

City Council may defer park issue

No official action by the City Council is expected next Monday night, Feb. 10, at the continued public hearing on the sticky, intramural issue of the unprecedented appeal by the Parks and Recreation Commission.

The appeal has aroused one of the greatest citizen's response over any civic issue in this city's history.

The park advisory group, individually and collectively, has appealed the action of the Planning Commission approving site plan of a 288-unit, 4½-story apartment complex adjacent to the city-owned Rincon Ave. park.

The matter has been continued from the Jan. 27 City Council meeting to allow City Attorney Joe Bonacina to explore all the legal ramifications involved in the issue. And there are many.

Bonacina indicated this week that, although he will be ready next Monday to present some views on the matter, he will not be prepared to give an opinion upon which the City Council can act.

Bonacina said that reports and data on the background of the issue were received by his office this week but they would not be analyzed and matched against legal authorities by next Monday.

Members of the Parks and Recreation Commission spearheaded a "grass roots" movement after the Planning Commission had approved the site plan for the plush apartments.

The movement culminated in a jam-packed council chambers filled with people opposed to the apartments and the submission of petitions with 1600 names protesting the apartments infringing on the fast-disappearing open space areas within the city limits.

The park commissioners maintain in their appeal that the Planning Commission did not take into consideration the height, bulk, mass and silhouette of the buildings on the adjoining park area.

In an unusual show of unanimity, all seven members of the parks commission took the floor at the first hearing to present their reasons for defying the action of the Planning Commission.

Many other residents at the first hearing also spoke out against the apartment-infringement on potential and limited park land.

Among those going to the mike were Mrs. Elizabeth Hubbard, of 180 S. First St., representing three organizations, West Valley Senior Action Center, Head Start Policy Advisory Committee and United Progreso Arriba. She reported that all three organizations opposed the apartments and she filed letters with City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan to that effect.

Jerry Gomes, president of Campbell JayCees, also said his organization opposed the apartments in the area and also submitted a letter.

Chuck Cannady, an officer of the Campbell-Moreland Pony League also took the floor to oppose the apartments. The Pony League is

Things were pretty shaky for a while

Planning Commissioners on Monday night lost a lot of time with "the shakes".....Pertaining to roofs, that is.

But, you might say, what really shook 'em up was the way they split the shakes.....It was all pretty shaky—right down the middle.

When the evening shakedown was over (for two weeks, at least) the commissioners found that some six motions, after they had started festivities for the evening, they were right back where they had started.

It all started out with the problem that Ralph E. Carnett had presented some weeks ago by his plans to develop an 80-foot x 600-foot parcel on San Tomas Aquino Road near Latimer. The matter had been continued from the Jan. 20 meeting to Monday night.

With a variance, 40 units can be built on the property. The variance would eliminate the need for trellises between the units, which, technically, made eight-plexes out of four-plexes.

The commissioners approved the variance after considerable discussion.

But then they hit the roof.

The question of the hour was to shake or not-to-shake.

Chairman Kel Young was absent. Thus only six of the commissioners were on hand.

And, it was an even shake no matter how it bounced from then on out.

Three of the commissioners, Dale Scott, Merrill Grim and Frank Klein held firm to the all-shake concept for roofs while the other three, Jack Healey, Ed Pack and Thayer Lyons were on the rock roof side as the developer desired. (Carnett claimed not only were rocks safer than shakes but they were about $5000 cheaper.)

Anyway Scott's motion for all-shakes resulted in a 3-3 deadlock, as did the amendment offered by Lyons for shakes only for the first building.

RAIN DROPS

A total of .94 inches of rain fell during the last week, bringing the rainfall total in Campbell to 13.72 inches. Rainfall reported for the same time last year only totaled 10.29 inches.

No 'Thor' here

Those civic-minded people who favored the acquisition from the Air Force of the thrust augmented Thor to be installed in the city park but were a little concerned because it might turn into an unattractive nuisance, won't have to worry.

Don Hebard, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission was notified this week by the Air Force that plans for the Air Force to dispose of Thor, have been changed, "as is often the case", the note adds.

Thor will not be coming to Campbell as a permanent guest.

At least that is the present plan.

Campbell wins award

Campbell has earned a "distinguished achievement award" in the National Clean-Up Contest, Mrs. Jeanette Watson, Citizens Beautification chairman, was notified this week.

Campbell will receive the specifically designed award for clean-up towns under 25,000 population at the climax of the National Congress on Beautification in Washington, D.C., Feb. 23-25.

The City Council, even prior to the announcement of the award, had voted to send Mrs. Watson to the congress.

HE DIDN'T HEAR THE WHISTLE BLOW--James Henry Russ, 28, 4810 W. Hamilton Ave. is listed in fair condition at the Los Gatos Community Hospital. He was ejected from his VW van after it was hit by a diesel train at the Wedgewood and Pollard Ave. railroad crossing Friday at approximately 4 p.m.

Russ apparently did not hear the train horn blowing until almost upon the train crossing, and according to witnesses, attempted to stop just prior to being hit. The car came to rest approximately 36 feet east of the train crossing. He suffered multiple fractures of the face, nose and right leg. He was west bound at the time of the accident.

Engineer Stanley Neeley reported that he had repeatedly sounded the train's air horn prior to coming to the crossing. He was southbound at the time of the accident.

Editorial

Top priority

An interesting "hindsight" situation has arisen concerning the problem that now confronts the citizens of Campbell with respect to reserving the limited open space that now exists within the city limits. But specifically it is not a new issue – it is a repeat performance.

If City Attorney Joe Bonacina rules that the city administration is within its legal rights to do so, an election for a civic bond issue could be scheduled for June.

At this election the voters within the City of Campbell would decide whether the city should be bonded to acquire property to expand the central park on Rincon Ave.

Although the basic reason for the proposed June bond issue (if legal) is because developers have recently submitted plans for an apartment complex that would infringe on the city park area, the question of park land acquisition is not a new one.

As a matter of fact, if only a relatively few more "yes" votes had been cast in the bond election in Oct. 1967 for the park issue that was on the ballot, obviously, there would be no need for the election in June.

Then there would have been ample bond money available to purchase the land on which the 288-unit, 4½-story apartment complex is planned.

You may recall that there were six issues on the ballot in Oct., 1967.

Four of them received the necessary two-thirds majority. This city is now moving forward in specific areas of civic improvement, i.e., street improvement, fire stations, library and city administration (police) building.

One of the issues on the ballot was for park improvement for $850,000. Although a whopping majority favored the park bonds, it failed to get the necessary two-thirds majority by a relatively few votes.

Thus, if the citizens of the community are given the opportunity to vote on a park bond issue in June of this year, it will be the second time around.

But, unlike the previous occasion (Oct. 1967), the lines will be clearly drawn this time.

You might say that it will be a "must" in June, for without bond money there is no way in the world for the City of Campbell to acquire the needed open space to expand the central park.

In Oct. 1967 when the $850,000 park bond issue was on the ballot there were no developers breathing down the neck of the city with plans for an apartment complex for the open space adjacent to the city-owned park property.

It is silly to maintain that had such a situation existed in Oct. 1967, the park bond issue would have carried. No one will ever know.

But we do believe, however, the proposed development for the apartment complex that has been presented, does change the picture.

The people themselves should have an opportunity to decide whether they want to preserve the small bit of open space that is left in the city.

It must be emphasized that in Oct. 1967, a big majority of the voters of the city DID favor the $850,000 bond issue.

AND they voted for it without any "gun" at their back.

In June, if an election is held, there really IS a gun, to wit, a 288-unit, 4½-story apartment complex that, once and for all, will eliminate prime park and recreational properties for the citizens of the community.

And, as it is said in the top eschelon circles, let it be crystal clear that, if $850,000 in park bonds was a good idea in Oct. 1967 (and apparently a big majority of the people thought so), then it follows that it is a good idea today.

We submit that in 1967 the citizens themselves through meetings, discussions and study prior to the Oct. vote, determined that a $850,000 park bond issue had a high priority.

Unless there has been a radical change in the overall civic picture and some other civic improvement is now considered to have higher priority, we maintain that the 1967 findings should stand today.

If that is the proper conclusion to draw from the developments of our city during the last 18 months, we maintain that it is reasonable to suggest that the people be given another chance to vote on the park bonds.

It is unfortunate that the action by the Parks and Recreation Commission in appealing the decision of the Planning Commission relative to the apartment complex come somewhat belatedly.

Obviously, it would have been better for all concerned, if the movement to reserve the limited open space was started before any apartment project had been contemplated.

And, of course, it would have been better, if the city could have zoned the property in question for parks and recreation rather than for multiples.

But this still does not negate the fact that although a sticky situation does exist now, if it can be corrected to the benefit of the citizens, the correction should be made.

We reiterate, the cost to the citizens now is no more than was anticipated in 1967.

Therefore, if it was considered a good thing then, it should be a good thing now.

Commission is primarily interested in how site plans, etc. fit into the general plan of the city.

Neither commission is really "agin" the other.

But, man alive, they really have put the city fathers in a bind!

As well as City Attorney Joe Bonacina.

Joe is now researching legal aspects of the problem so that the councilmen can be reasonably sure than when they act they are doing it legally.

Bonacina hopes to come up with an answer next Monday, Feb. 10.

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, the city councilmen are getting ready to ride - - - -

On the horns, we might add, of a dilemma, of course.

-0-

FOR THOSE OF YOU who tuned in late, the Parks and Recreation Commission, in an unprecedented action, appealed to the City Council the ruling of the Planning Commission approving the site plan for a 288-unit 4½-story apartment complex adjacent to the city-owned park area on Rincon Ave.

The public hearing on the appeal was held on Jan. 27.

At the close of the hearing the Council referred the matter to City Attorney Bonacina to check out the legal problems.

It is hoped that the city's legal beagle will be ready to report Next Monday, Feb. 10.

At the hearing, the council chambers overflowed with supporters of the park commission's position.

Petitions containing signatures of 1600 residents opposing the apartments were presented to City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan.

As an old pro at attending public hearings, we have become somewhat immune to the tensions that build up at such sessions and which so often lead to emotional blow-offs.

In our opinion, that hearing on the appeal, spearheaded by the Parks and Recreation Commission, was the most mature (we think that's the right word) we have ever attended.

And also probably the best organized.

In an outstanding display of unanimity, all seven members of the Parks and Recreation Commission were present and each described a certain phase of the problem, emphasizing the need to preserve the limited open space within the city.

The parks commissioners also had done their homework mighty well, for the big crowd at the hearing was almost all on their side, if the response to the speakers was any criteria.

BUT ONE LONG-TIME resident, Charlie Rose, former councilman and mayor, did speak out against the park expansion. He claimed it would be too costly for the city to undertake such a project, i.e., acquire the land.

Prior to the actual hearing, Charlie also criticized the location of the Campbell-Moreland Pony League ball field at the park.

Rose claimed that according to baseball experts, it was better for the fielders to look into the sun instead of the batters, as they do at the Rincon Ave. park.

Hank Cary, member of the Parks and Recreation Commission took issue with Rose on that. Hank indicated that there must be two schools of thought on this sun-facing bit for ballplayers.

Top advisors to the Pony League had recommended how the ball field was to be laid out, Cary explained.

Unfortunately, we can't take sides on that issue, because we don't know which way to go.

It's been so long since we either fielded or batted that we can't remember which way we preferred, facing the sun at bat or in the field.

We do recall, however, that our batting average was never very high.

So we doubt if the sun made any difference.

Schools hit by arson and thieves

Several Campbell residents reported losses of jewelry and small amounts of money during the week. In three instances a box or stool had been placed under a back bedroom window, the window broken or forced and the burglar entered through the window.

Gladys Caruthers, 815 Marily Drive lost an antique gold ladies watch; Patricia Rossi, 1040 Hazel Ave. reported 25 cents missing after someone had entered the premises and John J. Wilson, 829 Lana Court, was victimized of jewelry and money valued at $230.

George Huntington, 215 Union Ave. was also a victim of a burglar over the weekend. His loss amounted to $1,431.40 worth of guns, Model A car parts, photographic equipment and a gun. Entry also was made by a back window.

Two schools were hit during the week after suspected juveniles broke windows and entered the Hazelwood School on Waldo Road and the San Tomas School, 1510 W. Hacienda. The same suspects are being sought in both cases.

The Capri School, 850 Chapman Drive, was the scene of attempted arson. Pages torn from a magazine and papers were stacked against the wall. and then lit building a modern baseball field on the present park site which would be visibly affected by the apartments.

Leading the battle for the apartment has been Paul O. Frechette, designer of the complex and who represents Guild West.

Orchard City Grange, one of the oldest civic organizations in the community, officially filed a protest this week against the proposed apartments infringing on the limited open space remaining in town.

In another action that could possibly have some bearing on the issue was the action of the Planning Commission Monday night.

On the motion of Commissioner Dale Scott, and passed unanimously, the planners requested that the City Council return to the Planning Commission for review, the proposed open space element of the proposed general plan before final Council action is taken.

The planners had previously approved the open space element and submitted it to the City Council.

Jerry Gomes to leave Campbell fire department on March 31

Jerry Gomes, fire training officer for the Campbell Fire Department (battalion chief), has resigned from the department effective March 31, Fire Chief George Maxwell reported this week.

Maxwell said that Gomes, the third highest ranking officer in the department, plans to go into business for himself.

The replacement for Gomes will be named from applicants. Applications must be submitted by 12 noon on Friday, March 7.

Requirements for the position specify that the applicant must be in excellent physical health and actively employed in a full-time paid position in the fire service with a minimum of eight years with three years at a supervisory level.

Applicants should also have a minimum of 30 units in fire science and be prepared to complete Associate of Arts degree within a specified time after appointment.

The position now has a salary range of $906-$1101 (in five steps). The successful applicant will be required to reside within Campbell city limits.

Gomes, a native of Campbell, was originally employed as a fireman of the local department.

He is the current president of the Campbell JayCees and resides with his wife and child at 179 Bland Ave.

A motion to continue until the next meeting carried.

But then on the plea of Carnett, for some definite action, the commissioners voted to reopen the hearing.

A motion suggested by Pack made by Lyons for all rock roofs got the same treatment, 3-3.

The motion then to continue until next meeting won approval and the Commission then went on to the next items on the agenda.

The Commission approved plans for a commercial building at 1565 Winchester submitted by United Renat-All; plans for a four-unit apartment for 705 Nido submitted by Ray Kanawyer; and plans for an industrial building for 215 Curtner submitted by Robert Dodge.

They also approved a zone change request of Chester W. Allen who wanted P-O at Manchester and E. Hamilton for an office. The parcel is now R-2-S. The hearing was enlivened by the appearance of Mayor Bill Smeed, a resident on Manchester, who questioned the need for the zone change, but did not directly oppose it.

The zone change request for Riley and Cuffe off Union Ave. that will have lots fronting on the new street, West Valley Drive, was approved (from P-O and M-1 to R-3-0).

The zone change request (from C-2-S to R-3-S) for a long, narrow property at 2265 S. Bascom submitted by J.F. Gemma and H.J. Bruno was continued after the commission again deadlocked 3-3.

The zone change, however, for property fronting on Apricot adjacent to the Bascom parcel was approved for R-2-S. The parcels are being annexed to Campbell.

Two receive promotions to police officer

Two members of the Campbell police force have been promoted to the position of police agents, it was announced this week by John Morgan, Campbell police chief.

Roger D. Higby, 25, scored the highest in the competitive written and performance examination given to five aspirants for the position. Placing second was Anthony L. Silva, 28.

Higby has been with the force for two years and eight months while Silva is a veteran of six years on the force.

As I View It

BY JOHN W. GILBAUGH

Imagine organized labor gaining control of the management function of business or industry. That is precisely what has happened in the California State Colleges, if an analogy were used in which administrators are representative of management and striking professors are representative of labor.

Obviously, college administrators, as an arm of management, cannot morally sit on the labor side of the negotiating table in efforts to resolve issues in dispute. Yet, this preposterous arrangement has continued unchecked during the college teachers strike.

Not only are some department heads refusing to report the absences from teaching assignments by striking professors, but they have joined them on the picket lines. Though, a portion of their salaries are paid to perform departmental management functions, some department heads, nevertheless, are serving as strike leaders.

Furthermore, while state law mandates that any state employee has resigned if he absents himself without leave for five consecutive days, one college president has already set machinery into motion to rehire some of the fired professors. This may circumvent the spirit of the law, and possibly the letter of the law as well.

A loophole in the law, though contrary to legislative intent, may provide the basis to restore the jobs of all the professors who have been purged from the state's payroll. The law does not stipulate the length of the period during which a fired professor remains ineligible for re-employment. Consequently, college administrators, some of whom owe their jobs to the striking professors, will leave no stone unturned in their determination to reinstate the fired dissidents.

At no other time during recent history has the public had such a strategic opportunity to rid from the faculties of its tax-supported institutions of higher learning, the activist and revolutionist professors. On several occasions, prior to the teaching stoppage, all college faculty members were warned of the consequences of participation in strike action.

Therefore, not only should the striking professors be replaced, but their faculty-elected administrative accomplices from department chairman to college president, who conspire to circumvent the letter or spirit of the law, should also be removed for derelection of duty.

While missing their classes, in addition to setting a reprehensible example for college youth, striking professors expect the taxpayers to close their eyes, grit their teeth, and enthusiastically bear the burden of paying their unearned salaries. Some of the faculty members, claiming to be on strike, meet classes in a physical sense, to avoid the five-day law, which would qualify them for dismissal. According to strike standards of organized labor, this is tantamount to "scabbing" on their own union.

Even without invoking the five-day absence without leave legal provision for dismissal, those faculty members who accept pay without having fully performed their employment obligations are subject to dismissal for the inadequate discharge of their duties. But, no faculty-elected administrator, however, would jeopardize his own position by enforcing such a regulation.

How organized labor can affiliate and support the tactics of subversive college professors who are turning the college campuses into battlefields of revolution, is beyond the comprehension of every peace-loving, law-abiding citizen.

If organized labor, which has done so much to bring about better standards of living for most of the nations' working men, persists in backing these academic spoilers, it may experience a public opinion backlash which could ring the death knell for the entire labor movement.

During the strike, a city thoroughfare which runs across the central part of the San Jose State College campus has been turned into a virtual Seventh Street Sodom. There, during daily, mid-day and afternoon gatherings, any observer may hear obscenities spewed by disheveled, bearded, hippy-type, dissident, college professors and their placard-carrying, four-letter-lewd-word-displaying student followers. All this in support of the phony strike by the American Federation of Teachers.

Here, we have a strike in which the issues are as spurious as the professors who daily circle the campus perimeter to disrupt classes by bellowing through bullhorns. Their raucous message is designed to influence other professors and students, who choose to preserve, rather than to destroy, a responsible academic climate.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

In the month of December Washington holdups increased 116% over the same month in 1967. -- For the full year ending last Nov. 4,055 robberies were reported compared to 2,458 for the previous year -- a 64.9% increase.

Police statisticians have found that the most reliable barometer of crime trends is the number of armed robberies. Such crimes (which do not include purse snatchings and yokings) have doubled in the Nation's Capital since 1967 and are up by 452% since 1965.

It is no longer safe to walk alone on any Washington street after dark. And it is risky to walk about 25% of the streets in broad daylight.

Since the increase in crime is not confined to the Nation's Capital, we must urgently ask and find answers to a serious question. Why in a period of high employment and great affluence when we have done so much to fight poverty and social injustice, do we have this alarming increase in crimes? Though I would not presume to know the full answer, sheer logic prompts me to suggest one possibility.

As a close observer of the social revolution which marked this decade, I have been forced to the conclusion that much of today's lawlessness is the by-product of a master plan for agitation to promote unrest, belligerence, disruption and violence. The violent upheavals which plague modern society seem so consistently cut from the same pattern that there must be a master plan.

Professor John R. Searle of the University of California has outlined three stages of student revolt. Stage one requires the development of an issue by a very small minority of troublemakers who have no legitimate grievances. Almost any issue will do, provided it is related to a sacred topic like the Constitution, free speech or racial equality. This guarantees widespread sympathy for the "cause". Secondly, the issue must be one to which university authorities cannot accede. Then the "issue" is presented in the form of "demands".

Stage two is designed to make the university the real enemy of truth and justice when it refuses the unreasonable demands. Then the faculty is involved and television dignifies the proceedings and produces a "leader" only because he is telegenic. The scenario then calls for the climax of stage two, a large scale demonstration and police intervention.

In stage three police brutality is elicited to encourage more faculty support and participation by sympathetic bystanders. Then the original demands of stage one are escalated beyond all reason and chaos rules.

This technique is designed to create disruption and revolt against the rules of society and its institutions. And it is not confined to college campuses. Thanks to meticulous planning by master planners and the invaluable assistance rendered by television, the system of disruption works. Ironically it is often subsidized by taxpayers' money, frequently from the Poverty Program.

So violence and disorder are now commonplace and "in vogue" in every American living room. Is it any wonder that they have spread to become shocking statistics on police blotters across the nation?

Prospect Pulse

By Pat Hebard

The Prospect speakers took a third in sweepstakes at the Individual Events Tournament at Leigh last Saturday. Senior Holly Hubbel took the only first place for Prospect in her event, Girls' Original Oratory. She spoke on the American Indian. The tournament lasted from 8 a.m. to 7:30 that evening when the awards were presented. Prospect had 91 entries. The speech coach is Miss Lee Cunningham.

Prospect's "traveling orchestra and choir" performed for the Los Gatos Elks Club last Thursday evening. These students make up a smaller version of the regular orchestra and choir. They are directed by Mr. Larry McCommas.

Posters are up and the campaigns are on. Class officers are being elected this week for the spring semester. The newly elected council is already in action. They meet every day during second to discuss matters dealing with the constitution and student body problems.

The spirit commission headed by Kris Mosher put on a booster banquet for the basketball team. The team was fed in Spanish style. The purpose of the banquet was to express the support that is behind the team.

The Varsity hoopman lost again to Branham last Friday evening and also earlier that week they met defeat to Camden.

Girls' Sports went to "clinics" this past weekend to learn the basics in gymnastics and volleyball at Leigh. The girls were taught the best techniques for competition in both sports by experts.

CONTEST WINNERS---Jack Parsons, youth activities chairman for the Los Gatos Elks lodge, looks over the certificate awards presented Jan. 14 to Janie Wong, center, and George Akina, left. The two Campbell High School seniors were winners of the Youth Leadership Award contest in which students from seven area high schools competed. The presentations were made at a special award dinner attended by nearly 200 Elks members and their wives. The two students also received a $100 U. S. Savings Bond.

Camden Chatter

By Diane Carman

Camden held its annual "Art Festival", Wednesday, Feb. 5, from 7:00 to 10 in the cafeteria.

Both the Art and the Art & Crafts classes participated in selling their projects, displaying them and demonstrating how to make them. A large number of students participated in the open house program choosing which fields of Art they would like to work in. The different fields they demonstrated were: watercolor, acrylic oils, papermache', wood carving, candlesticks, clay, decoupage, rock painting and pencil drawing.

Sue Bare, a senior, has been named 1969 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Camden on the basis of her score in a written knowledge and attitude test on homemaking given to senior girls Dec. 3.

Mr. Frank Filice, senior counselor, presented Sue with a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, Jan. 28 at an assembly. Although this in itself is an accomplishment, she has the chance to go on to State Homemaker of Tomorrow and the 1969 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The Cougars lost to Leigh's Longhorns in a tight game last Friday night, with the score 59-56.

The third quarter was the turning point, after a halftime tie of 21-21. Leigh turned on the juice, with Bill Scott and Doug Oliver each scoring for the Longhorns, and Rick Menden putting 15 points on the board for the Cougars.

This was a change of pace for the Cougars, after pounding the Panthers at Prospect's home court on Jan. 28. Rick Menden paced the winners with 17 points, while Al Buchholz added 10 to the board.

Campbell Corners

By Barbara Handel

Plans are being made for the Block C and Block P (Prospect) Valentine dance to be held on Feb. 15, Saturday, from 8 to 11 in Campbell's gyms. The band that will be playing will be the Chosen Few. A good turnout is expected. The price of admissions has not been set yet.

This Friday and Saturday night, the Pops Concert will be held in the Cafeteria beginning at 8 p.m. Performing will be the Pirettes, Flag Girls, band and The Saints. This concert is put on annually by the music department and has always been a big success. Everyone is encouraged to come.

A Junior/Senior recreation night is scheduled for tonight from 7-9 p.m. in both gyms. Any junior or senior is invited to come. Basketball, volleyball, etc., are some of the games planned for the evening.

Plans for the Senior Ball to be held on March 7 at La Rinconada are being made. Committees are being formed and things are starting to get into shape.

A reminder to Seniors who signed up for the ACT test. The next testing date is this Saturday, Feb. 8 at 8 a.m.

Last Saturday the ski club took another field trip. This time they went to Bear Mountain. The trip lasted from 4 a.m. until late in the evening. Everyone had a good time and returned tired and cold.

A new club has been formed by the parents of Campbell High students. The purpose of the club is to promote and support extracurricular activities being held at Campbell. They now are known as a boosters club. A contest is now on to choose a name for the club. Any student wishing to make a suggestion may do so by placing his idea in Room 35 by Feb. 15. The student who wins the contest will get a prize of $10. All suggestions are welcome. Anything's worth a try!

The Varsity Basketball team lost to the Saratoga Falcons last Friday 72-56.

The wrestling team looks real good. Hopes are for winning the season with only one loss. Many fine matches have been played to keep the team in the place they are in. Next week we play Camden and Prospect. Both games are at 7, in Campbell's boys gym.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

If your favorite basketball team wins a few games in a row, you get excited... If they win 10 in a row - - that's really something... If they would win 75 in a row -- well, that seems almost unbelievable ... But what about a team winning more than that? ...100 in a row?... 150 in a row?... Impossible?... Well, do you know a basketball team once won the amazing total of 159 games in a row?... That's the all-time record for any organized team in either high school, college or pro sports... This record was set by the Passaic (N.J.) high school basketball team... Between 1919 and 1925 they won 159 consecutive games!

Did you know that boxing has been a legal sport in this country for only just a little more than 70 years?... The first state to legalize boxing was New York and they didn't make it legal until 1896.

Seventh grade girls entertain at tea party

Thursday afternoon the homemaking students of the Campbell Elementary School culminated their cooking instruction period by entertaining the school teachers at a tea. The week preceding the tea was spent in preparing fancy cookies, dainty sandwiches, planning punch recipes and receiving instructions as to "how to act like ladies".

Classroom instruction is under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Adcock, homemaking teacher. Mrs. Adcock holds five classroom periods per day for seventh grade girls, averaging approximately 23 students per class. Her sixth period class is for boys who are interested in learning the basic steps in cooking.

The girls' homemaking course is divided into seven different areas, including child care, personality, home nursing, personal grooming, clothing selection and cooking, which includes preparation, serving and cleaning up. During the second semester the students will be taking sewing.

The large homemaking room is divided into five small kitchen units, each complete with modern stoves, sinks, refrigerator and plentiful cupboards which hold the necessary utensils. A second room off from the large room contains a new electric washer, dryer, fitting rooms, ironing boards and electric irons. Here the students will learn the basics of sewing and material selections.

A long counter runs along the other side of the room and under the counter are fitted modern sewing machines with plenty of counter space for sewing materials.

Homemaking is a required course for the seventh grade girls and is designed to introduce the girls to the various aspects of the many different jobs that go to making up a home.

LOOK WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO COOKWARE

COLLECTORS of fine cookware can match high-fashion aluminum cookware to fit any kitchen decor. The line makes a practical, elegant Christmas gift. Many new colors have been added.

CLEAN UP TIME---After a party cleaning up is a necessary chore. Here, l. to r. Wendy Groot, Cynthia Naucke, Karen Kroening and Ellen Driscoll tackle the necessary chores.

TIME FOR CHIT-CHAT--Mrs. Lois Blair, science and Spanish teacher at the Campbell Elementary School, chats with Penny Clever, Janis Duncan and Elaine Lopez during the recent tea given by the fourth period homemaking class.

READY TO SERVE---Theresa Herrell and Vickie Hillig prepare platters of cookies and sandwiches to serve their guests.

Girl Scouts

Christmastime found the troops in Neighborhood 17 involved in service and crafts.

The visit of Mrs. Pat Fox, of the San Jose Chapter of the American Red Cross, to Neighborhood 17's Oct. meeting resulted in the sending of 136 individual boxes and one large box to "The Girls Home", which is conducted by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd in Mexicali, Mexico. Ten boxes contained personal, school, and recreational articles. Clyde Fischer, of San Jose, collected the boxes and had them delivered to Mother Amada, who is in charge of the home.

Troops No. 303, 603 and 777 visited the Red Cross Headquarters in San Jose, where the Scouts heard about the home and were able to view slides of the home and its grounds.

Brownie Troop 777 made felt pins and dolls to go with purchased items into their 29 boxes. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. C. D. Slater and Mrs. D. G. Pereira.

Junior Troop 669 filled a large box with recreational and school items to accompany their 36 boxes. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. F. H. Clough and Mrs. H. J. Totaro.

Junior Troop 603 chose to send 10 boxes to the boys home along with 20 boxes to the girls. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. F. L. Ambrosini and Mrs. J. H. McGough.

Junior Troop 303 sent 51 boxes. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. H. L. Wolf, Mrs. W. W. Leach III, and Mrs. J. L. McCoy.

Brownie Troop 840 of Rosemary School held a Christmas party for their parents at the school on Dec. 20. The Brownies presented their parents with gifts the girls had made at previous meetings. Visiting Junior Troop 603, of St. Lucy's School, sang two songs, after which everyone joined in singing carols.

On Sunday, Dec. 22, the Brownies went neighborhood caroling and were served refreshments at Mrs. J. Wolf's home. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. G. W. Bourgeau and Mrs. Doug Maddox.

Junior Troop 861 of Campbell Elementary went neighborhood caroling Dec. 20. Afterwards they were served refreshments at the home of Mrs. Paul Davis, co-leader. Mrs. R. W. Keller, leader of the troop, accompanied the girls.

Junior Troop 303 of Sherman Oaks School was visited by Mrs. Mary Barone of Posey Garden florists and demonstrated papier-mache' Christmas crafts to the scouts. Troop Christmas projects included hot pads made from rug samples and pencil and pad holders.

Junior Troops 116 and 669 shared an afternoon of Christmas songs and cookies with their sister Brownie Troops 156 and 465 on Dec. 18.

While all the scouts were seated in a circle on the floor, Brownie Troop 465 sang, "These Are a Few of My Favorite Things", for the group, which was followed by the Junior Scouts singing Christmas songs they had learned for their school chorus program. Then all the scouts joined together to sing Christmas carols.

Brownie Troop 158 sang the "Grace" before the serving of the refreshments.

Leaders of the troop are: Mrs. R. J. Crapo and Mrs. Leonard Fiock, 166; Mrs. F. H. Clough and Mrs. H. J. Totaro, 669; Mrs. R. W. Wilburn and Mrs. Kenji Tarigoe, 158; and Mrs. R. R. Esau and Mrs. Peter Danna, 465.

The two Junior troops recently joined together to form two baseball teams per troop and played two games of baseball.

West Valley College hires first permanent ombudsman

West Valley College has appointed Michael A. Rivera, its first permanent Ombudsman. Rivera was released from the staff of Woodrow Wilson Junior High School in San Jose, to accept the appointment at the college.

He will serve in a permanent position, succeeding Mac Martinex

He will serve in a permanent position, succeeding Mac Martinez, Spanish instructor, who had agreed to serve temporarily, until the screening of applicants could be completed.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, recommended Rivera's appointment after screening had taken place for five applicants.

Dr. Hall said that Rivera had been a "very highly respected member" of the faculty of Woodrow Wilson Junior High School, and said he had been told by the principal there that Rivera had "Done a tremendous job in organizing the interest in the Mexican-American families whose children attend the school.

Rivera, who lives at 6389 Bose Lane, San Jose, is 44, married, and has three children. He received his A.B. in Art Education from San Jose State College in 1950, and his master's in Spanish from Stanford University in 1965.

He has been teaching since 1953.

In his position, Rivera will be concerned with searching out and facilitating the removal of discrimination on the basis of race, creed or national origin, in whatever areas of the college or college community it may occur.

His primary areas of concern will be off-campus housing, counseling, jobs, scholarships, curricular and co-curricular programs, according to the job description approved by the college Board of Trustees.

He will receive inquiries or complaints from students of minority groups, economically disadvantaged students, from faculty members, or any other source.

He will develop lines of communication with students, especially those from minority groups, or who may be otherwise disadvantaged, through advisers and instructors and and by means of individual appointments and group meetings.

He will assist students to resolve difficulties through persuasion insofar as possible and to avoid development of hostile and contentious attitudes.

Homeowners in county receive applications for $70 tax refund

Homeowners in Santa Clara County this week began receiving applications in the mail for the $70 tax refund which they approved as Proposition 1-A on the November election ballot.

The forms must be completed by the homeowner and mailed or returned to the County Assessor's Office, exemption division, 70 W. Hedding St., San Jose, according to Assessor Dwight L. Mathiesen.

A Special Service Section has been set up in the Municipal Court Building Basement, 200 W. Hedding St., for anyone needing help with the form or wanting to hand deliver it. For information call 286-7850.

An owner is entitled to the refund if he owned and lived in a home or a duplex in this County on March 1, 1968.

Once the application blank is filled out by the owner and returned to the Assessor the County will check the form and forward the information to State officials. Persons entitled to the refund will receive it in mid-June from Sacramento.

Mathiesen said that the earlier forms are completed and mailed by the homeowner the earlier refunds can be processed and paid by the State.

Also the Assessor's Office soon will mail to property owners a second application, but yellow in color, for a 1969 property tax exemption.

Any person who owned and lived in a home or a duplex in this County on March 1 of this year is entitled to a $750 exemption on the assessed valuation of his home. This is similar to the exemption given to California war veterans.

In the past a veteran was not entitled to an exemption if he owned property in his own name with an assessed valuation of more than $5,000 or property jointly with his wife where the assessed value was over $10,000.

These veterans are entitled to the new exemption for homeowners because there is no limit on the value of a home which can be granted the exemption.

However, only one exemption can be approved for a home.

Mathiesen also warned that the law provides that no forms received after April 15 will be accepted. This applies to both the 1968 refund and the 1969 exemption.

Extended day registration at college set for Feb. 6

Late registration for the spring semester's extended day program at West Valley College begins at 6 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 6 at the college, in Room A-17, at 51 E. Campbell Ave., according to Donald R. Ziegler, Dean of Admissions.

Students whose last names begin with the letters "M" through "Z" will register Thursday and those with "A" through "L" will register on Monday, Feb. 10 at the same time.

Late registration will continue through the week of Feb. 10. Students are required to attend the first meeting of the class in which they plan to register during that week.

Openings are still available in classes in art, business subjects, electronics, food and restaurant management, mathematics, mineralogy and social science.

Two courses being offered for the first time, on Thursday evenings, are "Mexican-American Problems" by Dr. Elihu Carranza and "Real Estate Appraisal" by Al Carlson.

All of this late registration is for evening classes, except for four morning classes in real estate practice and legal aspects of real estate, Ziegler said.

He urged interested students to register as soon as they can, to avoid not being able to obtain classes they need.

NOW IN GERMANY---Pfc. Paul Wayne Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Dunn, 780 S. San Tomas Road, is shown in West Germany where he is stationed with the 24th Infantry. His unit is expected to return to the U.S. around Feb. 15 and will probably be stationed at Ft. Riley, Kansas. Paul attended Campbell Elementary School and Westmont High School, entering the army in March, 1968. He has been undergoing training at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma and Ft. Riley, Kansas during the past year.

Gearing for street or trail is changed with just the flip of a lever, thanks to the exclusive "Posi-Torque" feature. Eight-gear transmission. Automatic clutch. Step-through frame design, to get on and off quickly and safely. Chrome luggage rack, quiet USDA-approved spark arrestor muffler and dual braking system are all standard equipment.
